The French Escape

BY CHÂTEAU DES VIGIERS

Two wine regions. Four days. Nothing to organise.

Spend four days exploring two of Southwest France's most distinctive wine regions: Bergerac and Saint-Émilion.

You will stay in a four-star hotel set within a 16th-century château, surrounded by peaceful countryside. Winery visits, transport and reservations are all arranged for you, allowing you to enjoy each day without having to drive after the tastings or worry about the practical details.

Intimate vineyards, prestigious wines, lunch overlooking the vines, historic heritage and encounters with the people behind the region's wines come together in a warm, accessible and unmistakably French escape.

Discover the wines of Southwest France through landscapes, people and moments worth taking time over.

Your guides Vincent & Susan

Wine is always better when someone brings the story to life.

Vincent and Susan will accompany you through the vineyards of Bergerac and Saint-Émilion.

English, passionate about Southwest France and its wines, they make each visit relaxed, personal and easy to understand.

They are there to introduce you to the producers, translate when needed, explain what you are tasting and answer your questions — without turning the day into a wine lesson.
